

GRUBER PROGRAM
for Global Justice and Women's Rights
at Yale Law School

presents the Gruber Distinguished Lecture in Global Justice

Esther Duflo

Science Against Poverty: From Action Research to Large-scale Change

Monday, October 22, 2018

4:30 pm

Baker Hall, Room 116

100 Tower Parkway, New Haven

Esther Duflo is the Abdul Latif Jameel Professor of Poverty Alleviation and Development Economics, MIT and the Co-Director, Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab. She also was a 2009 MacArthur "genius" fellow. In her research, she seeks to understand the economic lives of the poor, with the aim to help design and evaluate social policies.

With Abhijit Banerjee, she wrote Poor Economics: A Radical Rethinking of the Way to Fight Global Poverty, which was named Business Book of the Year by The Financial Times and Goldman Sachs in 2011, and has been translated into 17 languages. Duflo is the editor of the American Economic Review, a member of the National Academy of Sciences, and a Corresponding Fellow of the British Academy.

Photo: Peter Tenzer

This event is open to the public.
Please RSVP to:
<http://rsvp.law.yale.edu>

Yale Law School